Besides the regular commercial schools which have been in operation for some time, the State operates special merchandise and selling schools for the training of sales personnel for state-operated shops. These schools hope to train enough young merchandise and sales clerks so that the older clerks, many of whom were merchants, may be replaced.

There is a government-sponsored campaign which has received a great deal of publicity during the last two or three months: the collection and delivery to the Government of scrap metal. Anyone having articles made of iron, steel, copper, aluminum or tin can receive payment for these upon delivery to one of the offices or warehouses of a government agency called DCA (Directiunea Colectari si Achizitionari-Directory of Collection and Purchase). In order to increase the collection drive, contests have been instituted among school children, among different classes, and also among the different schools of a city. In such cases, the scrap metal collected is contributed to the government effort and not sold.
